

State Adopts 'Get-Tough' Policy To Enforce Anti-Smog Regulation

Capitol News Service
SACRAMENTO — A "get tough" policy on California's smog device requirements has been announced at a news conference held jointly by the California Highway Patrol, the Department of Motor Vehicles, and the Air Resources Board. Verne Orr, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, and the Air Resources Board. Verne Orr, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, said the state's new law, Pure Air Act of 1968, requires nearly all new vehicles sold in California during 1967, 68 and 69 to have a crankcase device as well as an emission device to curb smog.

Also under the law, every 1955 through 1962 American-made vehicle owned by persons living in Alameda, Los Angeles, Marin, Orange, San Diego, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties and in the metropolitan areas of Riverside and San Bernardino counties, must have a crankcase device installed.

Orr said that when a vehicle is sold by a dealer, he must furnish a certificate of compliance stating that the vehicle is equipped with the required smog devices in good operating condition.

When a vehicle is brought from another individual, the new owner must obtain the certificate from a garage or service station licensed to make inspections.

R. A. Krindler, deputy commissioner of the California Highway Patrol, warned the patrol is making 150,000 inspections each month
